

Controversial handcuffs finally distributed to cops

By Liza Tan, Manila Bureau

THE police have the controversial handcuffs since a court has ruled that they are not illegal. The court said that the handcuffs are not illegal because they are not used to restrain a person's freedom of movement.

Fuel truck bomb attack kills 70 in Iraq

By MICHAEL M. GREGG
Baghdad (UPI) — A massive explosion in Baghdad on Tuesday killed at least 70 people and injured more than 100 others in a suicide bombing of a fuel truck.

The explosion occurred in the heart of the city, near the United Nations headquarters, and was the deadliest attack in Iraq since the start of the war in March 2003.

The attack took place on a busy street in Baghdad, where a fuel truck carrying a large quantity of gasoline was targeted. The explosion was heard from miles away, and the shockwaves were felt throughout the city.

A massive explosion in Baghdad on Tuesday killed at least 70 people and injured more than 100 others in a suicide bombing of a fuel truck.

The attack was the deadliest in a series of bombings targeting civilians in Iraq. The United Nations has condemned the attack and called for an investigation. The Iraqi government has also expressed its condemnation and is working to identify the perpetrators.

Makati City sets construction of center for youth in crime

By Tony S. Gumbay

MAKATI CITY, Philippines — Makati City officials are planning to build a center for youth in crime, a facility that will serve as a hub for the city's youth in crime. The center will be located in the city's central business district, and will be a multi-story building that will house a variety of services for youth in crime. The center will be a place where youth in crime can go to get help, and where they can learn about the law and the consequences of their actions. The center will also be a place where youth in crime can get a job, and where they can learn about the importance of education. The center will be a place where youth in crime can get a second chance, and where they can start a new life.

Morgan Stanley sees slower 4% GDP growth for RP

By Russell J. Stone

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI) — Morgan Stanley & Co. has cut its forecast for U.S. economic growth to 4% for 1998, down from 4.5% in June. The firm's analysts say the economy is slowing, but still has room to grow. They expect a soft landing, with a recession starting in 1999.

There is a growing body of research suggesting that individuals with a history of trauma are more likely to experience mental health problems. This research has implications for the development of interventions for this population.

The new business strategy that will help 2004 – and beyond – begin to take hold at KPMG. What I find particularly interesting is that this strategy reflects a shift in the way we think about business and the way we think about the world.

The authors received no financial support for this research. The authors have nothing to disclose.

Abstract The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week resistance training program on the strength and endurance of the lower extremities of sedentary middle-aged men. The subjects were divided into two groups: a control group and an exercise group. The exercise group performed a 12-week resistance training program consisting of three sessions per week. The control group did not exercise. The subjects were tested at baseline and at the end of the 12-week program. The results showed that the exercise group had significantly greater strength and endurance than the control group at the end of the 12-week program.

The findings may indicate that the use of the model is not limited to the study of the effects of the environment on the development of the individual, but that it can also be used to study the effects of the individual on the environment.

the other major source of information about the world, the Internet, is also a source of information about the world. The Internet is a vast network of computers that are connected to each other, allowing them to share information. This information can be used in a variety of ways, from providing news and entertainment to providing educational resources. The Internet is a powerful tool that can be used to improve our lives in many ways.

There is a lot of talk about the "importance" of the small, family business, and it is true that the small business is the backbone of the economy. But the small business is not the only type of business that can be successful. The large corporation can also be successful, and it can be successful in a way that the small business cannot. The large corporation can have a lot of resources, and it can have a lot of power. It can also have a lot of influence. The small business, on the other hand, is often limited by its size. It may not have the same resources, and it may not have the same power. It may also not have the same influence. So, while the small business is important, it is not the only type of business that can be successful. The large corporation can also be successful, and it can be successful in a way that the small business cannot.

Feast of children's books

By Angela Arnesen-Lee
Illustration by Angela Arnesen-Lee

It's time for a feast of children's books. The 2010 National Book Festival will be held at the University of the Philippines (UP) in Diliman, Quezon City, on July 24-25.

The festival is a celebration of the rich literary heritage of the Philippines. It is a time to celebrate the best of Philippine literature, from classic to contemporary, and to introduce children to the joys of reading.

The festival will feature a variety of activities, including book fairs, author readings, and workshops. There will also be a special program for children, featuring stories, songs, and games.
